

Being an Apprentice with BCITO

The BCITO is investigating whether its learning materials (the box of books) is doing the job it was designed for. To do this we need to find out something about the apprentices who currently use it. We would be grateful if you would spend a few minutes completing these questions. There's no right answer – we are interested in what you think or do. We don't need to know your name so your answers will not be linked to you.

Thanks

Amanda Gilbert
Tertiary Education Research Consultant

Apprentice Profile (BCITO)

Oct2007

Age:

Gender (M/F)

Ethnicity:

Present job:

Type of Apprenticeship:

Date you started:

Educational qualifications (NCEA, NZQA unit standards, etc):

How long do you estimate you have to go until you become a registered tradesperson?

Why did you decide to do an apprenticeship?

What is it like to learn in this way?

What do you think of the assessments and examples?

What do you think about the Record of Performance?

Which of the unit standards have you found most useful? Why?

Which of the unit standards have you found least useful? Why?

Which of the unit standards have you found hardest? Why?

How do you work best with the learning materials? (e.g. complete it in chunks; copy off my mates; do a little every evening)

Things that might affect your progress with the apprenticeship (at work or outside)

What do you see as your personal strengths?

Any other comments about the apprenticeship or the learning materials :-
